- We create communities where civility is cultivated
- We set standards for the community and encourage all members to hold one another accountable
- We celebrate diversity
- We encourage students to use discernment in their everyday lives
Student Life Staff

- Director and 3 Associate Directors
- 8 Assistant Directors-6 live on campus in the halls
- 20 Graduate Residence Coordinators (GRCs)-Graduate students at Loyola who live on campus and are available in an emergency
- 80 Resident Assistants (RAs)-undergraduate students who live on each floor and are trained to help your student succeed
Housing Options

All first year students are guaranteed housing. First year students live on both the East and West sides of campus – there is not one “first-year area” but rather five residence halls that house all first year students. The style of housing is generally connected to their first year program theme but all themes are offered in both doubles and apartments.
Doubles

Double rooms are shared by two students and students share a bathroom with three to ten other students on their floor of the same gender.

Doubles are available in Hopkins Court, Butler Hall, Hammerman Hall, and Flannery O’Connor. Some double rooms hold three to four people.
Apartments

Apartments are shared by four to six students and have two or three bedrooms, a kitchen, dining room, living room, and one to two bathrooms.

Apartments are available in Campion Tower
What style of housing is right for my student?

- There is no one right style for every student
- There are pros and cons to each style of housing
- Communication between roommates is key in any style of housing
- We try to honor preferences for style but cannot guarantee that each student will get their top preference
Residence hall amenities and services

- Print station, lounges with TV’s, some buildings have classrooms
- Each first year hall has a desk assistant at the main entrance of the building to check in residents
- Facility requests can be entered online 24 hours a day
- Come on the residence hall tour tomorrow during the fair and see for yourself how amazing our halls are!
How are roommates matched?

Students are asked to answer a number of questions about themselves that help us to match them with a compatible roommate.

Tomorrow during housing registration, it is important that students answer questions honestly.
What is next?

Students will get their housing assignments from us in early August via their Loyola email account. In that email we will include contact information for their roommate(s).

Most everything students will need to know prior to move in will be located on our website, including: pictures of rooms, dimensions of furniture, descriptions of amenities in each building, items to bring and not bring, etc.
When will my student come home?

This magnet is in your folder and has all the dates and times our halls are closed.

This information is also on our website.
