Certification in Administration & Supervision for Montessori Educators

The Center for Montessori Education in partnership with Loyola University Maryland’s Educational Leadership Program will offer a Certification in Administration & Supervision to a dedicated Montessori Leadership Cohort, beginning in the summer of 2018. Applicants from all over the world are encouraged to apply.

Loyola has been training Montessori teachers for over 25 years and is in partnership with a select group of institutes throughout the United States.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

This cohort is a 21-credit post-master’s program leading to Admin I Certification in Maryland. Upon successful completion students are eligible to sit for the Maryland Admin II exam to become a certified public school Principal. For state reciprocity check: http://www.teaching-certification.com/teaching/maryland-teacher-reciprocity.html

Program instructors will be a mix of School of Education faculty from the Educational Leadership department and visiting lecturers from established Montessori schools in both the public and private sectors.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

This program will enroll students with a M.Ed., preferably with a concentration in Montessori Education and with three years’ experience as a classroom teacher. The three-year teaching entrance requirement ensures that successful students are eligible for Licensure in Maryland as a School Principal upon completion.

“Montessori Leadership Development is one of the most important issues facing our movement today. It is the Choice of Leadership that we ask of ourselves. It will sustain the Montessori Movement for the next 100 years, assuring the continuation of our Cosmic Task and the peaceful revolution Dr. Montessori sought.”
