St. Mary's Students to Visit Loyola College Campus

On Wednesday, November 19 students and teachers from grades six through eight will visit the Loyola College campus' Julio Fine Arts Gallery. The Gallery is located in the Loyola College Fine Arts Center and is currently featuring Amanda Burnham's Denominator. The exhibit runs from November 3rd through December 10th.

This Harvard and Yale graduate's solo exhibit features her newest work. Putting a new spin on contemporary American landscape, she addresses the issue of the domination of corporate culture in today's society. These typical landscapes take a turn as they are infiltrated with depictions of graffiti, logos, and corporate brands. Using saturated colors against a monotonous background she is able to make a bold statement.

Students will arrive on the Loyola College campus at 9:30 am. They will be able to meet with the artist, view her featured work, and ask any questions they may have. They will arrive back at St. Mary's around 10:45 am. For more information on this artist please visit Amandaburnham.com.
