RISK MANAGEMENT

This presentation will provide essential cutting-edge information about contemporary approaches to effectively working with suicidal patients in clinical practice. The presenter will review the key elements of differential suicide risk assessment that leads to tailored interventions of suicidal states. This training will also include extensive discussion of risk-management techniques that can significantly decrease professional liability by enhancing effective clinical care

Participants will be able to:

- 1) Learn key theoretical considerations
- 2) Conduct effective assessment
- 3) Provide evidence-based clinical interventions
- 4) Learn and apply risk management techniques to decrease malpractice liability
- 5) Learn and apply key considerations to manage countertransference reactions to suicidal patients
