

Internships for Media/Communications/Broadcast Majors

Voice of America Provides multiple internships

- Description: The Voice of America (VOA), a dynamic multimedia broadcaster funded by the U.S. Government, broadcasts accurate, balanced, and comprehensive news and information to an international audience. Provides "real world" experience in a diverse and dynamic international broadcast organization.
  - Fields/Major: Engineering, Journalism, Language Broadcasts, Public Relations, Special English, TV Technical Studio Operations, and TV to Africa
  - Requirements: Current enrollment at an accredited college or university
  - Deadlines: Rolling (6-12 weeks before desired start date)
  - Compensation: Unpaid; College credit is available, depending on student's school; Stipend is provided for transportation
  - Application: Apply online is on the website through major/field
- The AAAS Minority Science Writers Internship
- Description: Science is a global activity, but the demographics of the journalists who cover it don't reflect that diversity. The Minority Science Writers Internship is for students who are interested in pursuing a career in journalism and who want to learn more about science writing. The internship takes place each summer at the Washington, DC headquarters of AAAS's Science magazine, the largest interdisciplinary journal in the world. Interns spend 10 weeks at Science under the guidance of award-winning reporters and editors, and have a chance to experience what science writers do for a living. Interns are expected to contribute to the weekly news section, including bylined articles in the print and electronic news service.
  - Fields/major: Science Writing; journalism
  - Requirements: You must be a college undergraduate at the time you submit your application.
  - Deadlines: March 1st annually
  - Compensation: The paid internship provides for travel to and from the internship site in Washington, DC. Living accommodations and expenses are the responsibility of the Intern. The internship runs from June to mid-August.
  - Application: click here
- Art Returns Internship
- Description: Interns will help file and mail extensive paperwork in the process of organizing and processing original artwork from Marvel comic artists.
  - Fields/major: Art; graphic designs
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid

- Application: Apply here
- Production Internship
  - Description: Interning in this department really gives you a firsthand look at the nitty-gritty of how comic books get from just being separate art, color, and lettering files and well on their way to being physical copies you can actually hold in your hands! You'll be asked to scan original art or create print-ready PDF files, so Mac computer skills are key here, folks! Keep in mind that you'll also need to have a working knowledge of Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign. Familiarity with Marvel's characters and comics in general is extremely beneficial!
  - Fields/major: Art; graphic designs; All Majors
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here
- Digital Media Internship
  - Description: Web Analytics, Online Marketing and Business Development Interns must be available at least 3 days a week and are involved in sales and traffic analysis, assisting in research of new revenue opportunities and ongoing site improvement. See what users are visiting our sites and analyze their behavior, using it to make future projections. Also, help out with conducting usability testing and seo. Help us to make Marvel.com even better!
  - Fields/major: Marketing and business
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here
- Web Editorial Internship
  - Description: Web editorial interns are usually called to duty on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by this most excellent department. Applicants should have an interest in comics and web internet work. The ability to multitask and work independently is a must. It is helpful, but not necessary, to be majoring in a related field such as: Journalism or Marketing.
  - Fields/major: Marketing, journalism, web design, graphic design
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Web development Internship
  - Description: Web development interns help code the inner workings of the Marvel website. Duties include HTML production, PHP, MySQL application design and coding, QA, and user acceptance testing, as well as actionScript development for flash applications.
  - Fields/major: Marketing, journalism, web design, graphic design, technology
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Project Management Internship
  - Description: Project Management Interns pitch in on different types of projects that will carry Marvel Entertainment Inc. into the future and beyond. You'll ably assist in writing scope docs, functionality specs, etc. You'll also have the opportunity to research new project ideas as well as find potential vendors to buy the best comic book-related merchandise in the world! Who says this isn't the mighty Marvel Age of Project Management? Fields/major: Marketing, journalism, web design, graphic design, technology
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Social Media Internship
  - Description: Social Media Interns are required 2-3 days a week (one of which must be Friday) and are involved in social media reporting and analysis, assisting in maintaining the Marvel Audience Network, various online research projects, and participation in brainstorming sessions. An interest in Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and emerging social media networks/technologies is a must. You should be internet savvy, and have strong writing, research, and Excel skills. Attention to detail and ability to multi-task also important.
  - Fields/major: All majors
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Digital Comics Internship

- Description: Interns will obtain firsthand knowledge about the development of online comics (Good luck folding these puppies up and putting them in your back pocket!). It's your chance to bring your Mac/PC skills to the table and show us what you've got, and while you're at it, familiarity with Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign and knowledge of Marvel characters doesn't hurt either!
  - Fields/major: Digital media; graphics designs;
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Creative Services Internship
  - Description: Enthusiastic, energetic students are encouraged to apply for this internship and should have 2-3 years of experience working with Photoshop and Illustrator. Prepare to Scan, rework designs, retouch art, pass files, and develop your skills by creating interesting and exciting designs! This includes being able to make functional patterns, borders, and icons. To qualify for this position applicants must be able to provide portfolio samples that demonstrate their ability to work with these Creative Suite programs.
  - Fields/major: Digital media; graphics designs; All majors
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here

- Brand Assurance Internship
  - Description: Spider-Man! X-Men! Iron Man! Hulk! If you see these names and think Marvel, then you have an idea of what a brand is. Brand Assurance Interns help manage, review, and process products that have been approved to carry the Marvel brand name. You'll be working with large databases and products that carry the Marvel name - everything from cell phone holders to statues to key chains! You'll get to organize as well as photograph consumer products. If you have a knack for developing websites, we can definitely put your skills to work helping to develop ours. Learn how our website displays all the information Marvel fans need to buy a product.
  - Fields/major: Digital media; graphics designs; All majors: Please be familiar with Research Analysis, Excel, HTML, and Flash. Some of the material you'll be working with is potentially sensitive/confidential material.
  - Requirements: You must be a college Freshman through College Senior proficient in Excel and Word to qualify for this internship
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid

- Application: Apply here
- Inventory Internship
  - Description: You'll think you've died and gone to comic book heaven as you lovingly pour over Marvel's stockpile of comics, trades, and hard covers while cataloging them into a magnificent Excel spreadsheet. You'll also assist with the delivery of incoming packages, prepare bundles containing new comics hot off the presses, and sort packages of comics to be mailed to our stable of freelancers.
  - Fields/major: Digital media; graphics designs; All majors: Candidates should be detail-oriented and able to work independently. Knowledge of our comics is helpful, but not required.
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here
- Publishing Internship
  - Description: You will be happy to know that the Publishing department is now looking for motivated and ambitious interns! The entertainment industry is buzzing so this is a good place to start in a company if you want to get a foot in the door, but do not have specific experience in a particular field. Publishing interns will help provide administrative support to five executives in the Editorial, Digital, Operations and Marketing departments. They will learn how to conduct research, maintain contacts, prepare expense reports, handle information requests and various other clerical functions.
  - Fields/major: All majors: The ability to be organized, multitask, and have good interpersonal skills is a plus. The candidate should be proficient in Microsoft Office. This is the opportunity to be a part of a great team and an exciting atmosphere!
  - Deadlines: Rolling
  - Compensation: Non-paid
  - Application: Apply here
- Center for the Study of the President Internship
  - Description: The Center for the Study of the Presidency Internship is available to students with an interest in the American Presidency. You will assist in the research and writing of policy analyses and other projects and help organize meetings, conferences and outreach programs.
  - Amount Awarded: Not specified
  - Fields: Political science, history, international relations, economics, business, or journalism.
  - Deadline:
  - Application:
    - ✓ To apply, please email the following to Sara.Spancake@thePresidency.org

- ✓ A cover letter indicating your availability (number of days of a week available to work, and approximate start and end dates);
  - ✓ Your resume
  - ✓ A brief (no more than 3 pages) writing sample on a relevant topic of your choice.
- The Explore Microsoft Internship
    - Description: Explore Microsoft is a 12-week summer internship program that is specifically designed for college underclassmen (freshmen and sophomores) and offers the opportunity to experience working at Microsoft. This program is designed to expose students to the field of software development and encourage students to pursue degrees in computer science, computer engineering, or related technical disciplines through hands-on training and group project experience.
    - Fields/major: computer science, computer engineering, software engineering, or related technical major
    - Requirements: College freshman and sophomore
    - Deadlines: rolling
    - Compensation: not specified
    - Application: Direct application click here
  - Multicultural Advertising Intern Program (MAIP)
    - Description: Students work at prestigious advertising agencies on various accounts, interact with advertising professionals on a day-to-day basis, and gain valuable professional credential that can help better position themselves in the marketplace. Interns will receive first-hand experience in all the disciplines of the advertising industry, including copywriting, art direction, public relations, media planning and buying, account planning and management, and much more. The internship includes not only work experience but participation in workshops and seminars that will enhance the student's knowledge and understanding in the field of advertising.
    - Fields/major: Advertising industry, including copywriting, art direction, public relations, media planning and buying, account planning and management
    - Requirements: must also be a junior, senior or graduate student with a grade point average of 3.0 or above.
    - Deadlines: The 2015 MAIP Application will be available in September 2014.
    - Compensation: Paid; unspecified
    - Application: click here