

10TH ANNUAL MID-YEAR CONFERENCE ON RELIGION AND SPIRITUALITY

MID-YEAR CONFERENCE:

Friday, March 30 – Saturday, March 31, 2012

FEATURING INVITED SPEAKER

David G. Myers, Ph.D.
Professor of Psychology
Hope College

This event is the only professional conference whose primary purpose focuses on promoting research in religion and spirituality and creating a supportive academic forum where professionals can discuss the latest research findings and scientific advances in the field. A partnership between Division 36, the Society for the Psychology of Religion and Spirituality of the American Psychological Association, and Loyola University Maryland's pastoral counseling department, the conference draws hundreds of attendees from across the country and overseas.

This year's invited speaker, David G. Myers, Ph.D., professor of psychology at Hope College, is the author or editor of 17 books on a wide variety of topics bridging psychology and faith. His research and writings have earned him the Gordon Allport Prize, an Honored Scientist Award from the Federation of Associations in Behavioral and Brain Sciences, the Award for Distinguished Service on Behalf of Social-Personality Psychology, and three honorary doctorates.

For more information or to register, visit www.loyola.edu/pastoralcounseling/myc.

If you have any questions regarding the conference, please contact Monique C. Daniels at mcdaniels@loyola.edu or (410) 617-7608.