SENIOR PROJECT GUIDELINES

Senior Project Information for Fine Arts Majors (to be distributed to all majors in the spring semester of their sophomore year).

The Senior Project is the Fine Arts equivalent of an Honors Thesis in other Departments, with several key differences:

- 1) Given the diverse disciplines encompassed by the Department, the range of proposed projects varies considerably.
- 2) The Senior Project is proposed in the semester immediately preceding the commencement of the project. Normally, the proposal is submitted in the second semester of the student's junior year but would be adjusted for students with advanced and delayed graduation dates. (See deadlines below.) It is approved by the entire regular faculty of the Department (full-time and 4/5 faculty). It continues throughout the student's academic senior year. Students who do a Senior Project register for 3 credits in the first semester of their senior year, but the grade posted for that semester is a GL (Grade Later), which is then changed at the completion of the project in the second semester.

DEADLINES: For students who are graduating in May, proposals are due on the second Friday in February of their junior year. For students who are graduating in December, proposals are due on the second Friday in October of their junior year.

IMPORTANT NOTE: If you determine for any reason that you cannot complete your Senior Project, you may withdraw up until the official deadline in the semester that you begin the project; withdrawals cannot be permitted retroactively.

Preliminary Procedures:

Students are expected to contact a faculty member to discuss their projects well in advance of submitting their proposals. Eligible faculty directors may be tenured, tenure-track, full-time non-tenure track, and 4/5 faculty).

Proposals will be circulated among the Fine Arts faculty, and a meeting will be scheduled with faculty and Senior Project candidates. (Students who are studying abroad must make alternative arrangements through their faculty mentors.) At the meeting, faculty may raise questions or offer suggestions about the proposal; the faculty will then vote to accept the proposal, accept the proposal contingent upon revisions, or reject the proposal for possible revision and re-submission. Proposals will pass based on a simple majority vote of those present at the meeting.

Any revisions to the proposal will be due within 2 weeks of the initial deadline. If necessary, the faculty will then vote on whether to approve the revised proposal.

During the Project:

You must meet with your mentor on a regular basis throughout the course of the project; the number and scheduling of the meetings will be arranged by you and your faculty mentor.

At the end of the project:

Near the end of the second semester a date will be scheduled when you will be asked to present your results, either in the form of a lecture/talk, an artist's statement/exhibition, or a performance. This is open to the public: parents and friends are welcome and it is your opportunity to shine. This will be followed by refreshments, again open to all guests.

Either immediately following your presentation or shortly thereafter you will meet with a faculty committee of 3 (your mentor and 2 other faculty), along with any other interested faculty, to discuss your project. This "critique" is intended to be both friendly and helpful; it is a chance to recognize your accomplishments and provide an opportunity for questions.

The Fine Arts Department requires that all students who undertake a Senior Project leave a record of their work for our archives: this could take the form of a written document, a cd, a dvd, etc. Only when you have submitted this material to your faculty mentor will your final grade be posted.
