PREPARING STUDENTS TO LEARN, LEAD, AND SERVE IN OUR DIVERSE AND EVER-CHANGING WORLD – SINCE 1852 –

AN EXPERIENCE TO INSPIRE A LIFETIME

Loyola University Maryland’s time-tested, distinctly taught Jesuit approach to education helps you master the tools and develop the traits you’ll need to learn, lead, and serve in today’s diverse and ever-changing world. Loyola is everything Jesuit education should be: rigorous, values-oriented, communal, and spiritually uplifting.

Your experiences here will be some of the most challenging and transformative of your life...and some of the most rewarding. They will help you become even more than you knew you could be: more knowledgeable, capable, confident, and committed to changing lives—others’ and your own.

As a Greyhound, you will embrace new perspectives and expand your possibilities. Shatter your preconceptions. Find your joy, Divine your truths. So that when you graduate, you’ll be ready. Ready to meet the complex demands of today. To anticipate and adapt to the needs of tomorrow. To forge a career that’s true to who you are. To build a life you love—and create the world you imagine.
A JESUIT
LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION

TIME-TESTED. PROVEN.
IN DEMAND NOW
MORE THAN EVER.

There’s a reason Jesuit, liberal arts education has been highly regarded and respected for 500 years: It works.

Characterized by intellectual excellence, critical understanding, leadership, promotion of justice, diversity, and wellness, and a constant challenge to improve, Loyola’s distinctly taught Jesuit approach to education helps you master the tools and develop the traits you’ll need to thrive today, tomorrow, and 20 years from now, in the future world of work. In fact, these characteristics are the very qualities that employers, our communities, and society seek in individuals.

UNDECIDED MAJOR? PERFECT.

More than a third of first-year students haven’t decided on a major when they enroll—and you won’t need to declare a major until the second semester of sophomore year. That means you have three semesters to explore the core and find the right field of study for you. Also, core courses often fulfill introductory major requirements.

ABOUT ACADEMICS

THE CORE

THE FOUNDATION FOR A RICH, MEANINGFUL
INTELLECTUAL LIFE AND YOUR FUTURE SUCCESS

The heart of our liberal arts education, Loyola’s core curriculum exposes you to diverse subjects and approaches to many sectors and fields. Our core curriculum further affords you the opportunity to delve deeper into certain subjects through an academic minor or elective courses—and the flexibility to change your mind. Through the core, you’ll develop lifelong habits of curiosity, integrity, persistence, and a passion for the pursuit of knowledge. When the time comes to do something different for a living (research shows that it will), you’ll be distinctly prepared.

YOUR FIRST-YEAR LIVING LEARNING EXPERIENCE

MESSINA

To support your transition to college life and learning, you will be enrolled in our first-year program, Messina. Messina is a year-long program specifically designed for you to create lasting friendships, develop relationships with a student leader (your Evergreen), faculty members, and administrators, and guide you to explore your passions and discover your potential. Within the program you will explore the intellectual, social, cultural, and spiritual dimensions of life at Loyola and in Baltimore.

Through Messina, you will:

- CONNECT with 15-16 other classmates in two themed seminar classes just for first-year students;
- LIVE in proximity to these same classmates, making it easy to study or socialize with familiar faces;
- LEARN skills and IDENTIFY resources to help you manage everything from your workload to your mental health;
- MAKE meaningful relationships with your faculty advisor and Messina mentor;
- DISCOVER how to navigate your way around campus;
- BENEFIT from the knowledge and experience of an upper-class student mentor, called an Evergreen;
- EXPLORE, LEARN about, and FIND inspiration in the City of Baltimore;
- PARTICIPATE in out-of-class excursions organized by your professors and Messina mentors;
- FORGE a clear path to success at Loyola—and in your life and career that will follow.

Through Messina, you’ll have the opportunity to learn more about various wellness and student services that will inspire your academic, social, and personal success on campus:

- ALANA (African, Latinx, Asian, and Native American) Services
- Campus Ministry, Interfaith, and Retreats
- Center for Community, Service, and Justice (CCSJ)
- Counseling Center
- Disability Support Services
- LGBTQIA+ Services
- Student Health Center
- Tutoring and Academic Advising and Support Services
- The Women’s Center
Loyola’s Evergreen campus is exactly what you picture when you think of college: a grassy quad filled with Frisbees and hammocks, state-of-the-art recreational and collegiate athletics facilities, nationally ranked residence halls, distinguished academic buildings that inspire you to crack the books, and a beautiful chapel for community gatherings and celebrations. Located on 81 wooded acres in a residential neighborhood, Loyola offers the best of two worlds: the Evergreen campus is distinct from the surrounding city, yet intimately connected to the diverse and quirky metropolis of Baltimore.

The transition from high school to college can be tough. But at Loyola, you’ll discover something that makes that transition much smoother: a place to call home that actually feels like one.

Walk down the hallway of your residence hall any night and you’re bound to hear it... Music. Lively chatter. Laughter. A dinner party in full swing. Roommates discussing plans for the weekend. A group of students continuing a conversation about something they learned in the classroom earlier that day. Before you know it, your residence hall won’t feel like your home away from home—it’ll be your home. And within its walls, you’ll forge bonds with roommates and classmates that will last a lifetime.

First-year students live in either traditional double-style rooms with shared hallway bathrooms, in suite-style rooms with a shared bathroom inside the room, or in 4- to 8-person suites and apartments, each containing 2-4 bedrooms, a common area, bathroom, kitchen, and dining room. Students select their housing preferences during the summer before enrollment.
LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND = COLLEGE TOWN

IT’S CALLED CHARM CITY FOR A REASON

Dubbed “the Coolest City on the East Coast” by Travel and Leisure, Baltimore is a major metropolis with a small-town feel. The city is walkable, bikeable, easy to navigate, accessible, and affordable. It’s a place where you can be yourself—or reinvent yourself completely. And it’s home to 120,000 students attending 13 colleges, making it very much a college town.

No matter what your interests are, you’ll find something to love in one or more of Baltimore’s 200 diverse neighborhoods, each with its own personality and experience. Discover why Baltimore’s nickname is Charm City with amazing food, live music, shopping, entertainment, culture, and history in Harbor East, Federal Hill, Canton, and Fell’s Point.

Baltimore-Washington, D.C. is the 4th largest metro area in the United States and provides easy access to internships, job opportunities, cultural experiences, and nightlife (not to mention easy trips via plane, train, or bus!).

THROUGH STUDY ABROAD

Global awareness is a hallmark of Jesuit education. Exposure to diverse cultures and beliefs calls you to embrace different perspectives and experience unparalleled learning opportunities. More than two-thirds of Greyhounds participate in our extensive international programs, which include semester, year-long, and summer study abroad programs; study tours with academic departments; exchanges taught in English, or total immersion programs taught in the host country’s native language.

Loyola’s international student population hails from more than 40 countries. In addition to these full-time students, Loyola welcomes dozens of international exchange students from Argentina, Australia, Chile, France, Japan, Singapore, Spain, the Netherlands, and Greece each year.

THREE SCHOOLS, ONE APPLICATION, INFINITE POSSIBILITIES

When you apply to Loyola, you’re applying to the university as a whole and not any individual program, school, or major. Once you enroll, you can pursue a major and take classes in any and all of the university’s three schools:

LOYOLA COLLEGE

is the University's school of arts and sciences

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

offers courses in education specialties and teacher education, with a focus on innovation in urban education and social justice

SELLINGER SCHOOL OF BUSINESS & MANAGEMENT

is Loyola’s internationally accredited business school

ACCELERATED PROGRAMS

Loyola’s accelerated bachelor/master’s programs give qualified undergraduate students the opportunity to earn both a bachelor’s degree and a master’s degree in as few as five years, depending on the program.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES MAJORS

Loyola’s interdisciplinary studies major provides students the flexibility and academic freedom to combine interest in two discrete academic disciplines into a single academic major. Students may choose from a list of approved academic program combinations or work with professors from two academic disciplines to customize their pathway. A few popular interdisciplinary studies majors include: Biology/Physics, Biology/Psychology, Communication, Computer Science, Mathematics, and Writing.

HONORS AND SCHOLARS PROGRAMS

The Honors Program

High-achieving students of all majors can enroll in the university’s Honors Program. Taught by Loyola’s most distinguished faculty, Honors classes are small and are combined with an extensive program of excursions and events, discussions and lectures, and extracurricular enrichment.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Early Action - Dec. 15
Regular Decision - Feb. 15

CPaMS Scholars Program

This program features an interdisciplinary course of study in computer science, physics, mathematics, statistics, and data science and offers need-based scholarship opportunities in these fields. Students benefit from learning in a cohort and from faculty mentorship and opportunities for competitive internships, networking, and career development in STEM fields beyond Loyola.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Early Action - Jan. 8
Regular Decision - Feb. 10

Sellinger Scholars Program

This four-year honors program in business administration is designed to prepare high-achieving, highly motivated students for roles of business leadership and service. Through the Sellinger Scholars Program, classroom education is augmented through unique opportunities to interact with business professionals and community leaders, and it is complemented with skills-based learning.

WELCOME TO GREYHOUND NATION

IT'S EASY TO FALL IN LOVE WITH LOYOLA, because it's a place that allows you to truly love yourself. In this talented, driven, intellectually curious community, you'll feel inspired and encouraged to put your all into everything you do: in class, on campus, on stage, on the athletics field, and in the world.

Many universities treat your interests outside the classroom as nothing more than hobbies or activities they believe should take a backseat to your academic pursuits. Not Loyola. We understand that your passions—whether for martial arts and robotics or improv comedy and international cuisine—are fundamental to who you are. Our hundreds of student-led clubs and activities receive the funding and support that allow you to design a college experience that's as well-rounded and robust as you want it to be.

LEARN MORE ABOUT THE GREYHOUND NATION
We expect that you’ll pursue excellence in academics, but that expectation is balanced with the hope that you’ll seek every opportunity to rub elbows with amazing individuals—be it a Jesuit priest, a legendary professor, a fellow volunteer, a famous artist or comedian, or a world leader. And that you’ll have fun.

That’s why each year, Loyola’s events calendar is overflowing with special programming you simply won’t want to miss, from poetry readings and visits from media personalities, comedians, and authors to musical performances and concerts, academic lectures, and Q&As with thought leaders from around the globe.
UNLEASH THE HOUNDS

FACT: GREYHOUNDS HAVE THE LARGEST HEART OF ANY DOG.

Be part of a lacrosse tradition that’s the envy of other schools nationwide. Lift, spin, swim, and climb in a nationally ranked, state-of-the-art fitness and aquatic center. Play your heart out on a club or intramural team. Take on your rivals in the Battle of Charles Street. Jump into a pick-up game any day of the week. Lose your voice in the student Dog Pound cheering on our teams in Patriot League play. Athlete or fan, Loyola is a place where you’ll play, practice, perform, and cheer with heart.

ADMISSION & AFFORDABILITY

ADMISSION
Each year, our goal as a university is to enroll a class of talented, motivated, diverse students from around the country and globe. We admit students whom we believe will make unique contributions to Loyola’s academic and campus community—and who seem best suited to take advantage of everything Loyola has to offer. And while we consider several factors in the admission decision, the most important is academic merit, as demonstrated by performance in high school. We also consider demonstrated character strengths, leadership ability, and potential as evidenced in essays, recommendations, and extracurricular involvement.
