In order to respond effectively to natural and manmade disasters, Loyola University has created an Emergency Management Team that develops and maintains our Comprehensive Emergency Operations Plan (CEOP).

Our goal is to make Loyola University as disaster resilient as possible, and to be successful we need everyone’s participation. We encourage everyone to become familiar with this information and personally prepare for potential emergencies. An informed, prepared community further strengthens our disaster resilience and ensures our ability to respond to and recover from incidents of any scale.

4 Steps to Take in an Emergency

- Be aware of your surroundings—Paying attention to what is happening around you can help you understand how information, events, and your own actions will impact your safety and your ability to protect yourself.
- Protect yourself—Based on your assessment of the situation, use your best judgment to protect yourself and, if possible, others.
- Call for help—You can reach Campus Police at 410-617-5911 or by using one of the many blue light emergency phones located throughout campus.
- Help others—Once you are safely away from danger, warn others of the hazard and help if able to do so without putting yourself in harm’s way.

Loyola Emergency Notification System

The Loyola Emergency Notification System (LENS) is used to notify the campus community in the event of an emergency. This system, which is tested monthly, is composed of the following components to create a comprehensive alert system:

- The Outdoor Emergency Warning System alerts the Loyola community of specific dangers posed by disasters.
- PM Evergreen Emails are used to communicate safety notifications to everyone with a Loyola University email address.
- Blue Light Emergency Distress Stations are placed throughout campus and provide immediate contact to campus police.
- Loyola Emergency Information Page has up-to-date information on our current alert status.
- Alertus is used for emergency desktop notification alerts on campus computers.
- Greyhound Alerts provides text, voice, email, and mobile app notifications of weather alerts and imminent, physical threats to the Loyola community.

Register with Greyhound Alerts

All undergraduate students are automatically registered for Greyhound Alerts. It is strongly recommended for all other members of the campus community to register for Greyhound Alerts through the Everbridge Portal.
