Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Trustees
Loyola University Maryland, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Loyola University Maryland, Inc. (the University) as of May 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the University's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Loyola University Maryland, Inc. as of May 31, 2010 and 2009, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(1) Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Nature of Operations

Loyola University Maryland, Inc. (the University or Loyola) is a private, nonprofit higher education institution located in Baltimore, Maryland. The University provides education and training services to approximately 3,800 undergraduate and 2,300 graduate students. The students are from approximately 40 states and 30 countries and 84% of undergraduate students live on campus during the academic year.

(b) Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of the University have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingencies at the date of the financial statements and revenues and expenses recognized during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The net assets of the University are classified into three groups based on the nature of the donor-imposed restriction, if any, as follows:

Unrestricted Net Assets – Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that will be met either by actions of the University and/or the passage of time. Temporarily restricted net assets generally result from contributions or investment return on restricted endowment funds.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the University. Generally, the donors of these assets permit the University to use all or part of the return earned on related investments for general or specific purposes. Permanently restricted net assets generally result from contributions.

Revenues are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is limited due to donor-imposed restriction. Expenses are reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Gains and losses on investments are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulations or by law. Expirations of temporary restrictions recognized on net assets (i.e., the donor-stipulated purpose has been fulfilled and/or the stipulated time period has elapsed) are reported as reclassifications from temporarily restricted net assets to unrestricted net assets. Temporary restrictions on gifts to acquire long-lived assets are considered met in the period in which the assets are acquired or placed into service.

Assets and liabilities are presented in the order of liquidity in the balance sheets except that investments may include short-term securities that are available for operations.

The University has reclassified certain fiscal 2009 assets to show comparability to fiscal 2010.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

(c) Short-Term Investment

Short-term investment includes assets invested in the Short Term Fund (STF). The STF is a fund that holds fixed-income securities, short-term U.S. Treasury securities, and other short-term investments and has been liquidated as of May 31, 2010.

(d) Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenues in the appropriate category of net assets in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value at the date of the gift. Contributions to be received after one year are discounted using an appropriate rate for the expected period of collection. Amortization of the discount is recorded as additional contribution revenue. Allowance is made for estimated uncollectible contributions based on management's judgment and analysis of the creditworthiness of the donors, past collection experience, and other relevant factors.

(e) Investments

Investments are stated at their estimated fair values, which are generally determined based on quoted market prices. The carrying value of certain alternative equity and fixed income investments held through limited partnerships and hedge funds are recorded at net asset value as provided by the fund managers or the general partners. These estimated values, which are evaluated for reasonableness by the University, may differ from the values that would have been used had a ready market existed and the differences could be significant.

(f) Deposits with Bond Trustees

Deposits with bond trustees consist of debt service funds. These funds are invested primarily in short-term, highly liquid securities and will be used for payment of debt service.

(g) Land, Buildings, and Equipment

Land, buildings, and equipment are stated at cost, if purchased, or at estimated fair value at date of gift, if donated. Generally, the costs of maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred, while major acquisitions, additions, renewals, and betterments are capitalized. Depreciation of buildings and equipment is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.

The following estimated useful lives are used in calculating depreciation:

	Estimated useful life
Buildings	50 years
Equipment, furniture, fixtures, software, and other	5 – 7 years

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

(h) Interest in Perpetual Trust

Interest in perpetual trust represents resources neither in the possession nor under the control of the University, but held and administered by an outside fiscal agent, with the University deriving income from such funds.

(i) Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees are recorded as revenues during the year the related academic services are rendered. Student tuition and fees received in advance of services to be rendered are recorded as deferred revenue. Student aid provided by the University for tuition and fees is reported as a reduction of such revenue. Student aid does not include payments made to students for services rendered to the University.

(j) Federal Student Financial Aid Programs

Funds provided by the United States government under the Federal Perkins Loan Program are loaned to qualified students and may be reloaned after collection. Such funds are ultimately refundable to the government.

(k) Income Tax Status

The University is qualified as a not for profit organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. Accordingly, the University is not subject to income taxes except to the extent it has taxable income from activities that are not related to its exempt purpose. No provision for income taxes was required for fiscal 2010 or 2009.

(l) Functional Expenses

Costs related to the operation and maintenance of physical plant, including depreciation of plant assets and interest on related debt, are allocated to program and supporting activities based upon periodic inventories of facilities.

(m) Nonoperating Activities

Nonoperating activities reflect transactions of a long-term investment or capital nature, including contributions restricted for acquisitions of facilities and equipment; endowment contributions; endowment return in excess of, or less than, the University's spending policy; and changes in the value of split-interest agreements, perpetual trusts held by others, and transactions of an unusual or infrequent nature.

(n) Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments, which potentially subject the University to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash, cash equivalents, and investments.

(o) Derivative Financial Instruments

Derivative financial instruments (interest rate swap) are measured at fair value and recognized in the balance sheets as assets or liabilities, with the change in fair value included in the statement of activities. The fair value of the swap is determined using pricing models developed based on the LIBOR swap rate and other observable market data. The value is adjusted to reflect nonperformance risk of both the counterparty and the University.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

(p) Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act

On June 1, 2008, the University adopted the provisions of ASC 958-205, Not-for-Profit Entities – Presentation of Financial Statements (ASC 958-205) (originally issued under FSP FAS 117-1, Endowments of Not-for-Profit Organizations: Net Asset Classification of Funds Subject to an Enacted Version of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act, and Enhanced Disclosures for All Endowment Funds (FSP No. 117-1)). FSP No. 117-1 provides guidance on classifying the net assets associated with donor-restricted endowment funds held by organizations that are subject to an enacted version of UPMIFA. The state of Maryland enacted a version of UPMIFA in 2009. ASC 958 required reclassification of $24,441,000 of donor-restricted endowment funds from unrestricted net assets to temporarily restricted net assets until appropriated for expenditure by the University's Board of Trustees. The ASC also requires additional disclosures about endowments for all organizations (see note 10).

(q) Split-Interest Arrangements

The University's split-interest agreements are primarily annuity arrangements and interest in perpetual trust (as discussed in footnote 1(h)). Beneficiaries designated by the donor receive distributions from the University over their lives in accordance with the respective agreements. Liabilities under the split-interest agreements represent the present value of the estimated future distributions to beneficiaries over the terms of the agreements. Gains and losses associated with changes in the estimates of future distributions to beneficiaries are included in the statement of activities.

The University has $974,000 and $1,054,000 of future annuity payments included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities at May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. In accordance with Maryland state law, the University has $1,653,000 and $1,350,000 of assets separately reserved for the annuity payments at May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. This amount is included in cash.

(r) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In September 2009, the FASB issued ASC 820 – Accounting Standards Update No. 2009-12, Investments in Certain Entities That Calculate Net Asset Value per Share (or Its Equivalent) (ASU No. 2009-12). The Update provides amendments to Subtopic 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure – Overall, and permits, as a practical expedient, measuring the fair value of an investment that is within the scope of the Update on the basis of net asset value per share (or its equivalent) if the net asset value of the investment is calculated in a manner consistent with the measurement principles of ASC 946 as of the reporting entity's measurement date, including measurement of all or substantially all of the underlying investments of the investee in accordance with ASC 820. The amendments in this Update also require disclosures, by major category of investment, about the attributes of such investments, such as the nature of any restriction on the investor's ability to redeem its investments at the measurement date, any unfunded commitments, and the investment strategies. The amendments are effective for fiscal 2010. The University early adopted the measurement provision in Fiscal 2009 and has since adopted the disclosure requirement in Fiscal 2010, as permitted by the ASU.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

In January 2010, the FASB issued ASC 820 – Accounting Standards Update No. 2010-06, Improving Disclosures about Fair Value Measurements, (ASU No. 2010-06), which expands disclosures related to year-to-date activity within the respective levels of the fair value hierarchy. The University will adopt ASU No. 2010-06 in fiscal 2011. This adoption is not expected to have a significant impact on the University's financial statements.

(2) Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable, net, are summarized as follows as of May 31, 2010 and 2009 (in thousands):

	2010	2009
Due within one year	$ 2,539	3,209
One to five years	1,655	2,227
More than five years	1,090	1,397
	5,284	6,833
Discount (interest rates ranging from 3.4% to 2.4%)	(608)	(734)
Allowance for doubtful accounts	(589)	(950)
	$ 4,087	5,149

As of May 31, 2010, the University had also been informed of bequest intentions and conditional promises to give aggregating $17,645,000 which have not been recognized as assets or revenues. If received, these gifts will generally be restricted for financial aid, general operations, buildings and equipment, and instruction and research as stipulated by the donors.

(3) Fair Value Measurement

The fair value of the University's financial instruments is determined based on the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date assuming the transaction occurs in the entity's principle (or most advantageous) market. Those fair value measurements maximize the use of observable inputs.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments:

Cash, short-term investments, student tuition receivables, prepaid expenses and other assets, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, deferred tuition and refundable advances, and other liabilities: The carrying amounts approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Contributions receivable: The fair value is determined as the present value of future cash flows discounted at an interest rate that reflects the risks inherent in those cash flows. See notes 2 and 1(d).

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

Interest in perpetual trust: The fair value is determined as the University's percentage interest in the year-end market value of the underlying securities.

Investments and deposits with bond trustee: The fair value of fixed income securities, common stock and equity mutual and other funds are determined using quoted market prices at the reporting date multiplied by the quantity on hand. The carrying amount of money market funds approximates the fair value because of the short maturity of these investments. The fair value of the University's interest in limited partnerships and hedge funds are generally reported at the net asset value (NAV) reported by the fund managers or general partners, which is used as a practical expedient to estimate the fair value of the University's interest therein, unless it is probable that all or a portion of the investment will be sold for an amount different from NAV. As of May 31, 2010 and 2009, the University had no plans or intentions to sell investments at amounts different from NAV.

Interest rate swaps: The fair value of interest rate swaps is determined using pricing models developed based on the LIBOR swap rate and other observable market data. The value is adjusted to reflect nonperformance risk of both the counterparty and the University.

Bonds payable: The fair value of the University's long-term debt is determined by discounting the future cash flows of each instrument at rates that reflect, among other things, market interest rates and the University's credit standing. In determining an appropriate spread to reflect its credit standing, the University considers interest rates currently offered to the University for similar debt instruments of comparable maturities by the University's bankers as well as other banks that regularly compete to provide financing to the University. The carrying value of the University's debt approximates fair value.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quotes prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the asset or liabilities.

(4) Investments

Investments are professionally managed by outside investment organizations subject to direction and oversight by a committee of the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees has established investment policies and guidelines which cover asset allocation and performance objectives and impose various restrictions and limitations on the managers. These restrictions and limitations are specific to each asset classification and cover concentrations of market risk (at both the individual issuer and industry group levels), credit quality of fixed-income and short-term investments, and various other matters.

Investments are exposed to certain risks, such as interest rate, credit and overall market volatility. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, changes in the value of investment securities could occur in the near term, and these changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the accompanying financial statements.

Investment return is summarized as follows (in thousands):

	2010	2009
Income from interest and dividends	$ 2,015	1,874
Net realized and unrealized gain (loss) on investments	22,900	(46,905)

The Loyola/Notre Dame Library, Inc. (the Library), a separate legal corporation, was formed in February 1968 for the mutual benefit of the University and the College of Notre Dame of Maryland (Notre Dame). The Library building is situated on six acres of land between the two campuses. The land and the building, including improvements, were contributed in equal shares by Loyola and Notre Dame and are the property of the Library. The Library has its own board of trustees consisting of twelve members: and three from the University, three from Notre Dame, and six other members. The University and Notre Dame are required to financially support the Library's annual operations through payments of joint and use costs. Joint costs are equally shared and use costs are based on each institution's proportionate share of adjusted semester hours. The University incurred approximately $2,941,000 and $3,423,000 in joint and use costs for the Library during the years ended May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

The University has a receivable from the College of Notre Dame of $1,588,000 included in prepaid expenses and other assets at May 31, 2010.

The Series 1996B Bonds require monthly interest payments at variable rates determined by the remarketing agent as set forth in the agreement. The University has the option to convert from a variable to a fixed rate of interest and may change between fixed and variable rates over the term of the bonds, as defined and specified in the agreement. The Series 1996B Bonds are subject to mandatory tender prior to any change in interest rate method, or at the option of the University. In addition, the University is required to make sinking fund payments on October 1 of each year.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

The Series 1999, 2006A, and 2006B outstanding bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, from mandatory sinking fund installments of interest on October 1 annually.

As of May 31, 2010 and 2009, the University had letters of credit outstanding with banks in the amount of $45,538,000 and $48,028,000, respectively, as required by certain bond agreements. Should the University be required to access the letter of credit liquidity facilities securing the Series 2008 variable rate bonds due to an inability to remarket the bonds, the University would be required to repay such draws at the expiration of the letter of credit. This letter of credit is intended to protect the University in those potential situations when variable debt markets are unavailable for re-marketing in the short-term, by bridging the market event. The letter of credit provides for debt re-payment funding during these situations, while the University seeks replacement financing in the bond market. The letter of credit is set to expire in September 2011. The University expects to renew the letter of credit at such time.

The covenants of the Series 1996B, 1999, 2006A, 2006B, and 2007 Revenue Bonds restrict the sale of assets and include other requirements as defined in the agreement. The University was in compliance with its covenants as of May 31, 2010 and 2009.

Capitalized interest, net of interest income, totaled $995,000 and $1,544,000 for the years ended May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

(a) Interest Rate Swap Arrangement

The University has an interest rate swap agreement with a major financial institution to fix the interest rate on part of the Series 2008 Bonds. The agreement effectively fixed the interest rate on a portion of the bond issue at 3.25% through October 1, 2026. The initial notional amount outstanding under the swap agreement is $46,165,000 and amortizes through October 2026. The University receives a floating rate based on 67% of LIBOR and pays at 3.25%. Settlement occurs monthly, and payments made or received under the swap agreement are recognized as an increase or decrease in the related interest expense.

The fair value of the interest rate swap was a liability of $3,894,000 and $3,394,000 as of May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively and is included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(b) Bond Transactions

In May 2009, the letter of credit bank that was the liquidity provider for the Series 2007 Bonds was downgraded and, as a result, the remarketing of the bonds failed. The Letter of Credit issued as part of the bond issue was called and $9.8 million of the bonds were held by the letter of credit bank pursuant to a term reimbursement obligation to the letter of credit bank at 2% over the base rate that matured at the expiration of the letter of credit in 2014. In August 2009, Loyola executed a First Supplemental Indenture and Agreement and requested a mandatory tender of the then outstanding bonds. The tendered bonds were converted from a weekly variable interest rate to a monthly LIBOR based floating rate plus a margin based on the credit rating of the University. The letter of credit was terminated and the bonds were purchased by a new financial institution which will hold the bonds as bank-qualified bonds. The bonds are subject to mandatory redemption at the request of the University. The final maturity of the bonds is December 1, 2023.

(c) Principal Repayment Schedule

Aggregate annual principal payments on the bonds over the next five fiscal years and thereafter are as follows (in thousands):

2011	$	2,930
2012		3,030
2013		3,125
2014		3,035
2015		3,205
2016 and thereafter		141,580
	$	156,905

(7) Interest in Perpetual Trust

In June 1996, the University received an interest in the Marion I. & Henry J. Knott Scholarship Fund, Inc., an irrevocable perpetual trust. Under the terms of the agreement, as amended, the University currently receives 21% of investment income earned on the trust into perpetuity. The University is to use the income distributed from the trust for scholarships for students in undergraduate studies.

The University received distributions from the scholarship trust of approximately $109,000 and $260,000 in 2010 and 2009, respectively. The change in value of the University's interest in perpetual trust held by others is recorded as change in value of split interest agreements on the Statement of Activities and was $722,000 and $(3,289,000) in 2010 and 2009, respectively.

(8) Temporarily Restricted Net Assets

Temporarily restricted net assets as of May 31, 2010 and 2009 are restricted for the following purposes (in thousands):

(9) Permanently Restricted Net Assets

Permanently restricted net assets as of May 31, 2010 and 2009 are restricted to investment in perpetuity, the income from which is expendable to support operations as follows (in thousands):

	2010	2009
Financial aid	$ 29,957	28,760
Instruction and research	19,335	18,293
General operations	1,201	1,167
Total	$ 50,493	48,220

(10) Endowment

The University's endowment consists of approximately 180 individual funds established for a variety of purposes including both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. The University does not include pledges receivable and its interest in the perpetual trust as part of its endowment.

(a) Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Board of Trustees has interpreted UPMIFA as requiring that donor-restricted endowment funds be managed with the long-term objective of at least maintaining the real value (after inflation) of the funds. The University classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the directions of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Board of Trustees in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA. In accordance with UPMIFA, the University considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

1. The duration and preservation of the fund;
2. The purposes of the University and the donor-restricted endowment fund;
3. General economic conditions;
4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation;
5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments;
6. The other resources of the University; and
7. The investment policies of the University.

(b) Funds with Deficiencies

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with an individual donor-restricted endowment fund may fall below the original value of the fund. Deficiencies of this nature are reported in unrestricted net assets and were $1,774,000 and $4,159,000 as of May 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. Subsequent gains that restore the fair value of the assets of the endowment fund to the required level will be classified as an increase in unrestricted net assets.

(c) Return Objectives and Risk Parameters

The University has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Under the investment policy, as approved by the Board of Trustees, the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the price and yield results of a benchmark composed of S&P 500 and Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond indexes while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. The University expects its endowment funds, over three to five years, to provide an average annual real rate of return of at least 5%. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

(d) Strategies Employed for Achieving Objectives

To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, the University relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The University targets a diversified asset allocation that places emphasis on investments in equities, bonds, and absolute return strategies in a ratio to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2010 and 2009

(e) Spending Policy and How the Investment Objectives Relate to Spending Policy

The University has a policy of appropriating for a maximum distribution each year of up to 5% of its endowment funds' average fair value using the prior three years through the fiscal year-end preceding the fiscal year in which the distribution is planned. In establishing these policies, the University considered the expected return on its endowment.

(11) Retirement Benefit Plans

Retirement benefits are provided for faculty, administrators, and hourly employees, through direct payments to the retirement annuity plans. The University contributes an amount equal to 11% of the eligible employees' base salary. Contributions under these plans are fully vested and retirement payments are limited to the amount of the annuities. The University's contributions were approximately $5,840,000 and $5,649,000 in 2010 and 2009, respectively.

(12) Commitments

(a) Leases

The University leases classroom facilities and office space in Columbia, Maryland under a noncancelable operating lease agreement expiring in 2016. The University also leases clinical, classroom, and office facilities in Baltimore, Maryland under a noncancelable operating lease agreement expiring in 2013. The leases contain cost escalation clauses providing for increases in rentals due to increased tax or operating costs over defined base period amounts. Rent expense for the years ended May 31, 2010 and 2009 was approximately $2,104,000 and $2,111,000, respectively.

The aggregate annual minimum lease payments to be paid through the expiration of the initial terms of these leases are as follows as of May 31, 2010 (in thousands):
