Men's Basketball Home Opener

Basketball is back! The Hounds will matchup against the Towson Tigers tonight at 7pm for their season home opener. As the men’s team came up just short of beating the Tigers last year, they are ready for a rematch. Come out and support your Hounds in rowdy Reitz Arena!

Q: What attracted you to join SuperFans?
A: Throughout high school, I was involved in sports and always loved watching sports and just being a part of fan culture in general. I was excited to join and work towards creating an exciting atmosphere for fans here at Loyola.

Q: What is your favorite Loyola sporting event to go to?
A: I love going to all the sporting events here at Loyola, but my absolute favorite has to be basketball games. Basketball is my favorite sport and I’m very hopeful we will get to see our Hounds in the NCAA tournament before I graduate.

Q: How do you see SuperFans improving in the future?
A: I know we are looking to create more unique giveaways for students, working to develop a livelier atmosphere at tailgates and games, and give fans a chance to see the personalities of our athletes through the use of social media.

Team of the Week

Swimming and Diving:
Swimming and diving took on VMI on Wednesday night at the FAC. The Hounds took 1st, 2nd and 4th in the Women’s 200-yard medley relay, and then took 1st, 2nd and 4th again in the Men’s 200 yard medley relay. The Women’s team won the meet 159-58 over VMI, and the men’s team won 136.5-85.5.

Sophomore Devin Cronin won the 200 yard freestyle and 100 yard butterfly, while freshman Emma Schouten won the 100 yard breaststroke and 1,650 yard freestyle for the women. Senior Alec Speradino won the 100 yard freestyle, and freshman Ben Amoreno won the 500 yard freestyle for the men.

On top of these wins, senior diver Adrian Halarewicz swept the diving events, while junior Lindsey Staszewski set a school record in the 1-meter dive, posting a score of 270.45.

As the swimming and diving season picks up, one Hound to watch in the pool is senior Ben Cono. A few weeks ago, Cono earned his third Patriot League swimmer of the week award due to his performance against Lehigh. Cono helped lead Loyola in their 400-yard medley relay victory to open the meet. He followed up by winning the 100-yard and 200-yard breaststroke, and the 200-yard individual medley. His 100-yard breaststroke time tied the Lehigh record (56.50), a time he set there in 2015.

Congrats on a Great Season Men's Soccer!
The men's soccer team hosted the Patriot League tournament from November 10th to November 12th. Despite the end, this was a promising season for the Hounds. Only a few seasons ago, this team went 0-8-1 in the Patriot League. This year, they finished with a record of 6-2-1 in the Patriot League, winning the regular season Patriot League title for the first time. The team also won double digit games with their 10th win coming in a blowout 4-1 win against American. The team won FOUR Patriot League awards: Chase Vosick won goalkeeper and rookie of the year, Barry Sharifi won midfielder of the year, and Coach Nichols won coach of the year. There were also five Hounds selected to the first team all Patriot League and two more Hounds selected to the second team all Patriot League. With a vast majority of the team returning next year, the future is very bright for this team.

Player to Watch
Stephanie Karcz
Stephanie is a sophomore super star guard from Red Bank N.J. She has started for the Greyhounds since her freshmen year when she started 24 of the 31 games she appeared in, averaging close to ten points per game. She performs at high levels every game and kept her starting spot in the 2017 home opener vs. Cornell this past Friday. In her first game of her sophomore season, Stephanie recorded a career high 25 points. In her second game of the season, she brought in 12 points and made two steals vs. George Mason.

Stephanie Karcz is a player to watch this season as the Women’s basketball team takes on Georgetown in their next game.
