Q: What inspired you to join SuperFans?
A: When first seeing the passion and commitment some SuperFans showed when I first heard about the club really inspired. They showed me just how much it meant to them to go out and support our sports teams, and I wanted to be able to go out and make a difference anyway I could!

Q: What is your role on the SuperFans executive board?
A: I'm one of the social media coordinators! I run the twitter! @HoundSuperFans

Q: If you were stranded on a deserted island name three things would you bring?
A: SuperFans pajama pants, a hammock, and a boat

Women’s Lacrosse Home Opener

Loyola Women’s Lacrosse takes on their cross town rival, the Towson Tigers on Wednesday March 7th as their home opener. The Hounds look to bounce back after two tough losses to Johns Hopkins (14-11) and Florida (17-16 OT). Towson started off the season hot by winning their first two games and the Greyhounds look to give them their first loss of the season. Game starts at 7:00 p.m. sharp at Ridley.
Swimming and Diving Recap

The H2ounds recently competed in the Patriot League championships for swimming and diving. Over the course of the multi-day meet, many records were broken by Hounds swimmers. Emily Koegl set the record for the 200-yard individual medley in the prelims with a time of 2:03.93, and came back to break that record in the finals of the event with a 2:02.98 time.

Ben Cono set the school record for the men’s 200-yard individual medley with a time of 1:48.93. Cono was named the male swimmer of the meet after taking first place and setting the Patriot League and school records in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 52.21.

Emma Schouten clocked a school record in the women’s 500-yard freestyle with a time of 4:56.78. The women’s 400-yard medley relay also broke the school record, finishing the race with a time of 3:47.45.

Overall, the men’s and women’s team each placed fifth in the conference, the highest place for the men’s team since joining the Patriot League and the second consecutive fifth-place finish for the women’s team.

Men’s Lacrosse Recap

After dropping their first game of the season in overtime at Virginia, the Men’s Lacrosse team bounced back with a big win of Baltimore rival Johns Hopkins at Ridley Athletic Complex on Saturday, February 17th. Going into the game, the Hounds were ranked 14th in the nation, a few spaces below ninth-ranked Hopkins. After a back-and-forth first half, the Hounds led Hopkins by one (5-4) with Pat Spencer scoring the Hounds last goal with 6:00 to play in the half. The second half, however, was a very different story. The Hounds dominated the scoreboard, outscoring Hopkins 7-1 in the final 30 minutes to take the win over their Charles Street rival 12-5. This statement game was trademarked by junior Pat Spencer’s four-point game (1G, 3A) and senior Brian Begley’s four-point game (2G, 2A).

Senior defender Foster Huggins forced seven turnovers, which is tied for the second most caused turnovers in a game in school history. Currently, the Hounds are 2-1 and are ranked ninth in the nation.
