The Tewaaraton Award annually honors the top male and female college lacrosse players in the United States. In total, four Loyola student-athletes were named to Tewaaraton Award Watch Lists. Juniors Livy Rosenzweig and Sam Fiedler were honored from Loyola's women's team while junior Kevin Lindley and senior Ryan McNulty were honored from the men's team. The Tewaaraton Award has been given annually since 2001, when Loyola head coach Jen Adams became the first winner following her senior season at Maryland. Last year, the Greyhounds' Pat Spencer became Loyola's first-ever winner of the award that honors the top player in college lacrosse.

Be sure to make your way to Ridley this lacrosse season and support these talented student athletes along with the entire men's and women's lacrosse teams!

Team Recaps

Men's basketball is wrapping their regular season up on a high note. The men had a huge senior day win over Colgate with a score of 84-80 on February 16. Seniors Chuck Champion, Andrew Kostecka, KaVaughn Scott and manager Melanie Ornelas were honored. The team won against Army West Point on February 19 with a score of 81-77. The Greyhounds were down until the last six minutes of the game, with freshman Cam Spencer scoring a layup and free throw, putting the team in a two-point lead. The men had another win on February 23 against Lafayette with a score of 70-68. Freshmen Golden Dike and Santi Aldama each scored an amazing 14 points. Women's basketball team fell to Colgate on February 15 with a score of 79-70. They fell to Army West Point at the end of the third quarter on February 19 with a score of 75-55. The women then faced a tough loss to Lafayette on February 22 with a score of 76-65, but not without a fight from Freshmen Laryn Edwards who finished the game with 18 points. The women host Navy tonight at 5:30pm in Reitz Arena!

Men's lacrosse had a strong start to their home schedule with win against the Johns Hopkins Blue Jays with a score of 10-7 on February 15. This is the third-straight win over the Blue Jays for Loyola! The men then went on to defeat Rutgers with a score of 11-10 on February 22. Sophomore Bailey Savio set a Patriot League and Loyola University Maryland record with 18 ground balls and Freshman Joey Kamish scored the winning goal with less than two minutes remaining. The men host local foe Towson tonight at 7:00pm at Ridley Athletic Complex!

Women's lacrosse began their season on February 15 with a victory of 16-7 over Johns Hopkins followed by another win against Towson on February 19 with a score of 14-10. Junior Kaitlyn Larsson had 10 saves for the Greyhounds. Junior Livy Rosenzweig had a five-point game, placing her in the No. 8 spot in all-time program history. On February 22, the women beat #4 Florida with a score of 17-6.

Loyola swimming and diving finished their season strong at the Patriot League Championships this past weekend. On Day 1 of the competition, Loyola broke five program records, with the men's team finishing the day in third and the women in sixth. During Day 2, four more records were broken alongside sophomore Jimmy Hayburn making history as he became the second Loyola swimmer to win gold for the 50-yard freestyle. Day 3 ended with yet another historic win by senior Devin Cronin in the 100-yard breaststroke. The championship ended with the men's team in third place and the women in sixth.

Men's tennis faced a tough loss to Merrimack with a score of 7-0 on February 22. Freshman Edik Pribitkin and Junior Charlie Shanker both stretched their matches to three sets each.
