Baltimore Colleges and Universities for a Sustainable Environment

Loyola University Maryland has renewed our membership in the Baltimore College Town Network's Community of Practice B'CaUSE in order to advance regional sustainability through the shared ideas and collaboration of local university stakeholders. We are really looking forward to working with this group!

RecycleMania Tournament 2015

Now through March 28th 2015

We're currently participating in RecycleMania to track our diversion ratios and engage and inform our community in the recycling process. So far we have recycled over 89,682 pounds of plastic, paper and metals as well as composted over 2,620 pounds of food waste!

Our Recyclemania Team in action!

Good Stuff Campaign 2015—We're Hiring!

Sustainability, Facilities and Events have taken on Good Stuff 2015, and we're looking for help! Support local organizations, stay on campus, have fun and get paid! Dependability, flexibility and sense of humor required! Apply to work with us!

Go Green Fact of the Month

Over 150 streams, creeks and rivers drain to the Chesapeake Bay watershed. They seem small, but clean streams can have a huge impact!

Welcoming Undergraduate Admissions

We would like to extend a warm welcome to Undergraduate Admissions into the Green Office Program. The office is excited to continue their efforts to make Loyola a green community!

Fair Development Campaign gaining momentum in Baltimore

Baltimore area high school students have mobilized their community in a successful campaign to halt the construction of a waste burning facility near their homes and schools. The Curtis Bay region is already burdened with pollution producing industrial development sites. Learn more about this environmental justice campaign by visiting the campaign blog.
