

LEADERSHIP ESSENTIALS BALTIMORE COHORT

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM FOR EMERGING LEADERS

Leadership Essentials is an innovative program that capitalizes on the energy of emerging leaders to strengthen their organization's competitive advantage.

INVEST IN YOUR FUTURE

Designed specifically for emerging leaders with increasing responsibilities, Leadership Essentials is a unique multifaceted program that combines skill-building and personalized coaching. It is a six-month, tuition-based continuing education program offered by Loyola University Maryland's Sellinger School of Business and Management in collaboration with the Baltimore County Chamber of Commerce. The cohort of 15 - 25 diverse participants experience three major components of the program:

- Skills-based workshops - in-depth explorations of leadership topics that provide participants with the opportunity to learn new skills. Sessions are facilitated by leaders from the community for the full cohort.
- One-on-one leadership coaching - participants engage with a coach, meeting twice monthly during the program to explore and reflect on their leadership journey and create an action plan.
- Community service projects - participants work as part of a team in service to an area non-profit organization; a practical learning lab experience for knowledge gained in the program.

WHO PARTICIPATES?

Leadership Essentials candidates typically live or work in the region, and are viewed as rising stars in their organizations. Applicants are young professionals who demonstrate a passion and commitment to develop as a leader, have strong communication skills, and a desire to participate in community service. Selected participants represent a cross-section of the community: large and small businesses, government, education, health care, and nonprofits including the arts, social services, and faith-based groups.

CERTIFICATE

Participants are awarded a Certificate of Completion from the Executive Education Program at Loyola University Maryland upon completion.

"In the Leadership Essentials Program, I gained a set of skills to become an effective leader in my organization and my community. The class sessions were brilliantly tailored to target the skills I needed to gain as an emerging leader. Those skills were reinforced in my individual coaching sessions. The Community Impact Project was challenging and inspiring and it is an experience that I will always carry with me. The program filled the gap between the knowledge that I gained in my formal college education and the skills that I will need as I progress toward leadership roles in my career and my community."

- Pamela Geary, Leadership Essentials Alumna
Columbia Association

"Leadership Essentials has proven to be an invaluable partner for Howard Bank, providing a unique opportunity for our best professionals to develop the skills required for both business and community leadership"

- Mary Ann Scully
President, Howard Bank
