Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) at George Mason University (GMU) is pleased to offer a 20-hour-per-week, paid ($1000 stipend) Externship Training Program. CAPS provides a wide range of psychological services to the diverse Mason community. The externship experience includes a training component, direct service, outreach and program development, and administrative responsibilities in addition to opportunities for participation in other Center activities.

Highlights of the externship program:

- Each extern is expected to carry a case load of up to ten clients (reduced to eight clients when co-facilitating a group) and be on site for two full days and one half-day each week. Required half-day will occur Friday mornings.
- Each extern is expected to get extensive experience with clinical intakes, case management, and some opportunities to be involved with the daytime on-call crisis system.
- Opportunities for group co-facilitation are possible and prioritized for trainees
- Outreach and programming development opportunities.
- Didactic seminars that cover a broad range of topics related to clinical practice and multicultural concerns.
