

UNLOCK YOUR POTENTIAL WITH OUR PEER MENTOR SUPPORT

A GROUP FOR NEURODIVERSE UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS!

Our program is designed to cater to the unique strengths and challenges of neurodiverse individuals within our Loyola undergraduate student community. We provide a safe and supportive environment to thrive. Our peer mentors, with the support of faculty and graduate students from Loyola's speech and language pathology graduate program will offer guidance, helping you navigate academic hurdles, develop social connections, and prepare for your future.

Join our community and benefit from tailored resources, peer support, and advice, all aimed at empowering you to succeed. Embrace your individuality and achieve your academic and personal goals with us!

WHEN?

For fall and spring semesters.

One-hour weekly meetings start day, and time will be announced in fall 2026.

The first meeting will be announced in early September.

WHERE?

The LND Library

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Contact DAS@loyola.edu