WORKSHOPS

The Art and Science of the Moveable Alphabet

This workshop for teachers will trace the essential indirect and direct preparations that will lead a child to joyful self-expression with the moveable alphabet.

We will also explore techniques for guiding children in their process of use of the moveable alphabet from single words to phrases to stories, "reports," and beyond.

The Work of the Assistant:

lunch, playground, transitions

This workshop for assistants will offer suggestions to help assistants focus on some of their important times with children during the day. Montessori's ideas on the nature of the young child as well as practical suggestions will be included.

REGISTRATION

WORKSHOP LEADERS

Jennifer Shields is an AMI Primary trainer and frequent workshop presenter at WMI. Her many years of classroom experience are a deep and enriching resource as she shares practical ideas and insights on self-expression with written language.

Gail Guthery is an AMI Primary and Assistants to Infancy teacher and experienced workshop presenter. She has trained and worked with many assistants in varied school settings, and offers a strong foundation for understanding and enjoyable, fun ideas for working with children.

Tuition: $80 per participant; please make check payable to Loyola University Maryland.
